RADIO SNEAK PEEK PREVIEW

Our readers have barraged us with requests for more preview illustrations so they can see the new titles we're working on. In all fairness, we've got so much action coming up you're going to need a pen and paper to keep track of it all! And since there's nothing we like more at Radio Comix than showing off our new projects, without further ado, here are some highlights of comics in your future!

Don't forget our awesome new Trade Paperback Collections of Mechanical Man Blues and Havoc Inc, all coming out early next year!

Deja Vu: Bloodwar

Hot off his popular one-shot The Pound, Richard Moore returns with a supernatural romance that spans the centuries! Richard's amazingly popular work will absolutely electrify you so don't even consider skipping this one!

Eureka

Mark Moore and Brian Sutton's pulp adventure roars onward! Flying Saucers, G-Men and lots of intrigue! You can't go wrong! Do yourself a favor and give it a look -- we'll bet you cry "Eureka!"

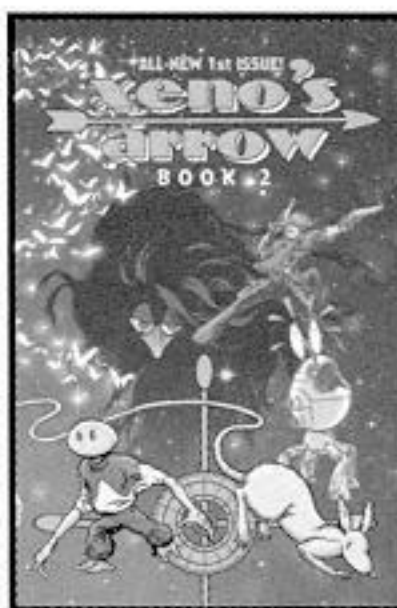

Tales of the Fehnnik

This has got to be one of our most anticipated releases all year! Not a week goes by we don't receive a mountain of mail about when the next issue is due out! Well, the issue is in our offices even as we type this! And if you were wondering if it was worth the wait, trust us --after you've read this one you'll be screaming for more! Elin Winkler and Scotty Arsnauld have turned in a superb effort and Steve "Albedo" Gallacci graces the cover!

Xeno's Arrow

The critically acclaimed indie hit Xeno's Arrow has moved over to Radio Comix! We're awfully proud about this one because we were huge admirers of the comic while it was being self-published! Now, by joining forces, Greg and Stephen can concentrate on the creative chores while the mighty marketing muscle of Radio works to bring the book to a whole new audience! If you're a lover of quality comics, you can't be without Xeno's Arrow!
